Randall County led all of the counties of the state in the United War Chest drive in the report for the week ending November 3, it was announced by Judge W. N. Stokes of Amarillo, chairman of Region 18.

This county's percentage stood at 191.5 when credits for previous overages were included. Next among the leading counties were Oldham, 123.1; Carson, 111; Lipscomb, 104.6; Hansford, 102.3; Parmer, 101.4; Roberts, 100; and Childress, 85.6.

Chairman Milton Morris of the Randall community fund, unit of the Texas War Chest and National War Fund, directed the campaign for the third consecutive year. In both previous years, this county was far over its quota. Last year the Farm Victory Council raised a sum comparable to the county's entire quota.

Texas stood 13th among the states in the national campaign.

From Oxen to Plane Is Knight's Record

To the News: My furlough (30 days) ran out, so I came back in the night, 7 p. m., Sunday. I'm not sure whether I'll be sent to MacArthur or to the 'Krauts.' Any way I had a delightful trip and visited in Fort Worth, Dallas, McKinney, Tyler, Gladewater, Longview, Kilgore, Overton. I flew to Fort Worth via. Lubbock in three hours, and had a 16-year-old thrill. I came up from oxen to the plane. We had noon (sample) eats above the clouds; made this round, and got back sober. Best of all, some of my friends were glad to see me, thanks. Just that same boy friend

JOHN KNIGHT.

Farm Loan Group Held Meeting in Amarillo Saturday

W. E. Bennett of Amarillo, W. J. Hill of Bushland, and A. E. Roark of Vega, were elected to the board of directors of the Amarillo National Farm Loan Association at the organization's annual meeting held at the Tri-State Fair Grounds Saturday.

Mr. Bennett and Mr. Roark were re-elected; Mr. Hill is a new member, succeeding T. J. Baker. Other directors are E. E. Adams of Amarillo and J. W. McCrerey of Canyon.

In his report, President Adams reviewed progress that farmers in the area have made as evidenced by the borrowers through the association having paid off loans in excess of $900,000 during the past year He also recalled that when he came to the Panhandle and bought land that the seller would not carry a loan of $1 per acre on the land, but that he took a personal note for the balance he owed him. No lenders thought much of land as security.

J. M. Neely, who was secretary-treasurer of the old association for about twenty-five years, spoke of the progress made by National Farm Loan Associations and the part they have played in establishing land loan values.

Secretary-treasurer Fred Cotton reported: The Association was servicing 762 loans in the territory. All stock in the association is owned by borrowers.

A CONFUSED WORLD

As we look around us, there seems to be little in the world today, except confusion.

The war has been won. But we have another war going on in China, and still another in Java. A budding war seems to be eminent in Palestine, or some place in that vicinity.

We wonder if the world is really civilized.

We wonder why the world has not had its fill of bloodshed, destruction and suffering.

We wonder what is going to happen next.

It seems to this country newspaper man, who knows little of world affairs, that politics is playing too great a role in the management of our armed forces.

Naturally every family with a boy in service wants to see that boy home.

This is true in 10 million or more cases.

We are far from peace.

Yet we are demanding that the armed forces be demobilized, and that the boys be sent home. That is especially true of the men who are watching the Japs and the Germans. No one can blame the fathers and mothers, the wives and the sweethearts for wanting the boys home.

Pressure is on Congress for the return of these men.

Military men are warning that we may face danger. When our troops are spread too thin, we may have a slaughter of these boys which could be frightful. There is no one kidding ourselves. The Germans and the Japs have plenty of firearms hidden away which might appear suddenly overnight and be used on an unprepared, and on a small, scattered force.

We wonder if our great nation is going to heed the warning of our military leaders, or just go on blindly sending these trained men home regardless of future dangers.

We whipped our enemies, but now we must feed them.

That may not sound logical, but it is true, nevertheless. If we leave the poor devils in Germany and Japan to starve, trouble stares us in the face. And that danger zone is not many months away. Starving people will cause trouble, no matter what language they speak.

Remember right here in the Panhandle, during the depression, when men walked the streets without jobs, and threatened to raid grocery stores unless they were fed? This happened in Canyon. The threat was carried out in many Panhandle towns.

The starving of Germany and Japan must be fed, regardless of our opinions.

Russia seems to be the unsolved riddle. Where is Stalin, and what about the future of Russia.

We have heard so many suggestions, that it seems silly to add any opinion.

Frankly it looks as if Russia intends to carry her bluff—or is it a bluff?—almost to the breaking point, if needs be, in order to get her way.

We hear wild commentators say that we must fight Russia within five or ten years. Just what they know about it is beyond us.

Stalin certainly has sense enough to know that another war in the immediate future would mean the destruction of civilization—provided we call this civilization.

We will stick to our original opinion—that Russia is going to bluff just as long as she can, and then make the best bargain that she can drive. After all, why should she not be suspicious? Churchill urged Germany to attack Russia, and we refused to have anything to do with the Reds until we needed them. Do you blame them for driving a hard bargain?

The union high moguls down in New Orleans see the hand writing on the wall. They know that Higgins has whipped them, and so they are trying to crawfish out of a tight spot. They are willing to let the union members go back to work, provided Higgins will retract the hard names which he called these labor racketeers.

The Higgins corporation is making plans to close out its business, and thus 2,000 men will be out of jobs immediately, while 10 potential jobs in the future will be lost, unless some group takes over the Higgins interests.

The union bosses have killed the goose which had the golden egg—the thousands of dollars which flowed into the union treasury, to be used by the union bosses without report to the men or to the public.

Wonder when Congress will get around to making union officials responsible to the members, and responsible to the public?

These shiny new cars almost make your mouth water. They look swell. They are swell. But Washington cannot decide the price which the dealer will get for these cars. Washington wants to clinch on dealers to the extent of wiping out their profits by making them pay all of the additional cost of production. In other words, the dealers would bear the traffic which Washington has added to the cost of production.

Of all the silly, insane ideas!

The Labor-Management conference in Washington continues its merry fight.

Watch John L. Lewis. Call him all the mean, ugly names you can think of, and then admire him for being the smartest labor leader in the conference.

Will the conference be able to get together?

No one knows. The conflab may be just another of these useless public discussions. Or it may result in real accomplishments.

President Truman tried to lay down the law to management and labor. He made veiled threats as to what the government would do if the two did not get together.

Will the President continue to be helpless? Can Congress settle the situation?

The unions have had their way for 12 years. They are powerful, and will insist in continuing a labor government. We are fearful that Truman has a bear by the tail, of which he cannot let go.

In the meanwhile, look at Russia. She has swung back to full production. She is manufacturing things for home consumption and for her foreign trade.

Is it possible that America—dog strong America—will continue to be bound by labor-management strife to such an extent that we shall lose our world market?

If so, recall the breadlines of the 30's. The fellows who today are clamoring for excessive wages, may be glad to take a crust of bread from the hands of a broke Uncle Sam.

"Why do you talk so much about big business," asked a reader the other day.

Simple enough. Big business in America means little business grown up. Every little business man in America has dreams. He hopes to grow up, just like the big fellows have grown.

During the war the government kept its eyes on big business, and allowed little business to shift for itself. Today we have bureaucrats in Washington who want to run everything. OPA is trying to stifle little business by cutting its profits to the bone. We are deeply concerned as to the fate of our business in Canyon, and the fate of of every other business in Canyon, as Washington tries to put the strangle hold on us.

These government fixtures should read some of the government reports. They should read the figures. They should realize that 98% of those who have engaged in retail business have eventually gone broke.

Does that look like little business men are profiteers?

Little business men are entitled to a fair profit on their business, and unless they get such a profit, they will go broke.

We are told that the government is wrecking fine, new aircraft before the ships are put into commission. The salvage amounts to a few hundred dollars. The cost has run close to the million dollar mark. Mind you these are new planes, never used.

There are hundreds of thousands of acres scattered over the nation with planes which have been in combat, or have been used in training. We have one such parking field at Lubbock, two or three sections, with thousands of planes which will be junked. These planes have served their mission.

But why should new planes, or even planes with slight use be junked until we establish a foreign policy?

And why should the government rush out and junk our expensive war plants until we see down the future as to what the world is going to do about peace?

The greatest weapon of destruction, the atomic bomb, is still under discussion.

We stick to our original opinion: That we should tell the world that we are going to keep the bomb, as our own weapon, and that it will be ready for use on any nation which wants to start another war.

But we cannot keep the bomb if every Tom, Dick and Harry knows the secret, or is allowed to build planes capable of carrying these bombs to all parts of the world.

Thousands of persons were stranded when the bus drivers quit.

Most of these persons had little money. There was real suffering as the result of the strike.

Those who suffered have a moral right for recovery of damages. A legal way should be established whereby the public may collect damages when they are deprived of public utilities.

While strikes are often a dispute between capital and labor, from which the public suffers little, public conveyances and utilities are a necessity for which substitutes cannot be obtained on a moment's notice. Such strikes are against the public, and those responsible—whether it be the owners or the employees—should be made to pay the damages.

We are glad that the Scouts of Randall county now have a regular meeting place. Scouting is a wonderful institution, and the boys and girls should be encouraged in their efforts.

Canyon needs a Youth Center to take care of such institutions. Unfortunately our nation as a whole prefers to pay the penalty of delinquency rather than invest in character building institutions, like Scouting.

Let's put more money in prevention, and not so much in make-shift cures. With youth these cures do not cure. Our institutions of correction are found to be breeding places for more crime.

Half the people in America are not members of any church.

Wonder what percent of the people in the churches are taking their responsibilities and their obligations seriously?

Why not do some christianizing at home instead of trying to convert so many so-called heathen?

Candidates for 1946 are beginning to bombard the newspapers with build-up stories. We have so many wonderful men in Texas—according to these press releases, who are willing to throw themselves as sacrifices on the altar or public service.

But why make light of such candidates? Does not the public too often complain about the lack of ability of our public servants when the voters vote their prejudices and for the least qualified candidates for office? Let's be fair in dealing with candidates.

When qualified candidates fail to present themselves for public office, we have only one class of people to blame—the voters, who treat their candidates like Public Enemy No. 1.

President Truman signed the bill passed by Congress to reduce taxes in 1946. We still owe $2,000 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

We still believe that it is a mistake to reduce taxes until some of this debt has been paid off.

Those who have been fearful of the political effects of CIO should take heart. The voters of Detroit hurled down the CIO candidate for Mayor. Detroit is the hotbed of CIO. The organization spent huge sums of money trying to elect its candidate.

These fellows charge that power politics won. Maybe so. And maybe it was the good judgment of the voters. You would have to live in Detroit to know the real answer.

MADE HIM THINK

A clergyman advertised for a man-servant. The following day a young man called on him.

"Well," asked the clergyman, "can you light the fire and bring early morning tea at seven?"

"I—I think I could," replied the young man, puzzled.

"Can you work in the garden?" went on the clergyman. "I mean can you mow the lawn and prune trees and dig?"

"Well—er—yes, I think so," stammered the other.

"Can you polish silver, look after a dog, and be generally useful about the house?" asked the clergyman.

The young man nodded.

"And drive a car?" wound up the clergyman. "And—"

"I say, sir," interrupted the young man hotly, "I came here to consult you about getting married. If I have to do all that, it's off!"

When we presented the wife with a beautiful mink coat the other day, she said she couldn't understand how such a nice coat could come from such a foul-smelling beast.

A rare Oxford Lectern Bible, one of 40 in America, was presented to S. M. U. by Stanley Marcus of Dallas.

CHECK

Visiting an Indian Reservation in the dead of winter, an eastern woman, bundled up in three sweaters and a fur coat, turned out on a tour of investigation. She happened on an Indian Chief who was bare from his waist up and not much better off below.

"Chief," she exclaimed in amazement, "it is bitterly cold, yet you have practically no clothes on. How can you stand it?"

The man was silent for a moment. He stroked his chin. Then looking the woman over from top to bottom, he patted his cheek and asked, "You cold here?"

The woman was puzzled. She felt her cheek. "No," she said, "of course not. But this is my cheek."

JUST HOW?

Mother: Does my boy like to study?

Teacher: He likes to do nothing better.

If all of us profited by our errors we'd be busy declaring dividends.

MAKE YOUR CHILDREN YOUR PARTNERS!

WHETHER you are proprietor or employe, you want your children to have the best that you can give them. You want them to have a college education, some cash for special training, and an opportunity to enter any business or profession they may choose for a career. You want them to have a real start in life!

Mr. Y, a South Texas citizen, had some such thought in mind when he invested a part of his savings in Southwestern Life insurance for his two little children, shortly after their birth. Through a special contract, he made certain that his children would have their opportunity in life, regardless of what happened to him.

Death suddenly called Mr. Y from life's picture a few months ago. Mr. Y didn't live long enough to complete all the plans he had in mind for his children; but through his Southwestern Life Insurance contract, he assured each of his children a real start in life. You can make your children your partners, just as Mr. Y did. You can assure your daughter, come what may, that she will have funds to further her education, buy her trousseau, or help to start her home. You can give your son no greater opportunity in life than to provide him with cash for his technical training . . . cash to buy instruments if he enters the medical profession, or to buy books if he becomes a minister or lawyer . . . cash for the capital with which to start a business, or the nucleus of a retirement income when he is ready to end his life's work.

Out of savings you will never miss, you can make their fondest dreams come true. Get the facts on your plan today.

Buffs Meet Colorado College Saturday in Season's Finale

Tigers Rate High in Comparison With Teams Locals Have Played

Powerful opposition from the V-12 men of Colorado College will be met by the Buffaloes Saturday afternoon, November 17, in Colorado Springs.

The locals will leave Canyon by chartered bus Friday and will make the entire trip by 6 p. m., it is estimated. The return trip will be made on Sunday.

Colorado College is rated at near the strength of the University of New Mexico, which defeated the Buffs by a score of 13-0. However, West Texans are making good use of their time and will probably flash their best offense of the season.

Billy Greenfield will be at the helm in Colorado. Capt. Hoss Bledsoe, injured in the game with Dalhart AAF, will yield to the Dumas sophomore. Others in the backfield are likely to be Hunter, Hedges and Glasgow.

The line is expected to be the same as last week.

WAS ANTI-HITLER

The rumor spread in Oslo that a certain citizen had a parrot that could say "Down with Hitler." The rumor eventually came to the ears of the Gestapo. The man was forewarned that the Gestapo intended to pay him a visit, and he went to the local pastor for advice.

"I'll tell you what to do," said the pastor. "You take my parrot home with you and bring yours here." No sooner said than done.

Then the Gestapo came and charged the man with insulting the Fuehrer by teaching his parrot to say "Down with Hitler." The Norwegian denied the charge: "My parrot is non political."

So one of the Gestapo men approached the parrot and said, "Down with Hitler." No comment from the parrot. He repeated the words several times but without avail. Finally the other two came to help him and the three Gestapo men stood there shouting: "Down with Hitler."

"Praise the Lord!" said the parrot.

HE WAS SATISFIED

Briggs took the ticket the agent gave him, picked up his change, and walked away.

A few moments later he was back again at the ticket window.

"I say," he said to the clerk, "you gave me the wrong change just now."

"Sorry, sir," said the agent, with a shrug of his shoulders, "it cannot be rectified now. You should have called my attention to it at the time you bought your ticket."

"Well, that's all right, then," said Briggs, with a faint smile. "I'm not worrying. You gave me five dollars too much."

OF COURSE

A mother wished to enter her five-year-old daughter in a kindergarten, the age requirement of which was six. To the disapproving teacher the mother explained, "She can easily pass the six-year-old test."

"Say some words," the teacher said rather skeptically to the child.

The little girl surveyed the teacher with dignity, and turning to her mother, asked, "Purely irrelevant words?"

Life is a fragrament, a moment between two eternities, influenced by all that has preceded, and to influence all that follows. The only way to illuminate it is by extent of view.—Wm. Ellery Channing.

Education Week Is Observed

American Education Week's twenty-fifth anniversary is built around the general theme, "Education To Promote the General Welfare." The education program began Sunday, Nov. 11, and will continue through Nov. 17.

The national promotion committee says the purpose of American Education Week is to get the people to visit the schools, see them in action, find out first-hand about the good work they are doing, and learn about inadequacies which may be corrected by proper community interst and support.

It believes America should set an example to the world by improving its own educational facilities. Spending for peacetime civilian education should be stepped up to care for such urgent peacetime educational needs as the following:

1. To overcome the vast educational deficit which the war has caused.

2. To provide for the employment of more teachers at adequate salaries.

3. To lay the basis for a higher level of civic responsibility and understanding.

4. To keep youth off the labor market by extending educational programs.

5. To provide the foundation for economic well-being.

6. To make education for peacetime as challenging as war-time education.

7. To enable civilian education to use as effectively as the Armed Forces the most up-to-date tools and technics of teaching.

8. To give special attention to raising the educational level of the economically - underprivileged but children-rich areas of the nation.

9. To raise the level of civilian education generally.

"Such a development in American education will not come, however, unless the teaching profession and the friends of education are alert, vigorously and fearlessly working in behalf of the schools," Lyle W. Ashby, assistant editor of the "Journal of the National Education Association," wrote in the October issue.

NOT SO SURE

The wife had gone away to her mother. She returned suddenly and said to the maid: "Mary get a bottle of wine from the cellar. My husband and I must celebrate my return."

Maid: "But won't it be too much for him, madam? He has already had two bottles to celebrate your going away."

The batter took two cuts at the first two pitches, and let the third one go by.

"Strike three—you're out," called the umpire.

The batter was indignant: "You missed that one, ump."

"Well, you missed the other two. You're still one up on me."

MODERNISM

"How is Hennery gettin' along with school, Eph?"

"Not so well, Garge. They're learnin him to spell taters with a 'p.'"

Boys, if you are tired running around with holes in your socks, get married. The wife will soon teach you how to darn them.

You can always tell a single man because he has no buttons on his shirt. And a married man because he has no shirt.

SCOT WINS

A Scotsman and an American were standing beside Niagara Falls. The latter had been descanting on this "one of the lesser marvels of the States," and capped his remarks by exclaiming: "I once saw a man swim up these falls."

"Are ye sure?" asked the Scot.

"I saw it with my own eyes," declared the American.

"Well," said the Scot, "yon was me!"

The speaker at a public dinner had talked for an hour, and seemed good for as long again.

"Can nothing be done to shut this man up?" a guest said to the woman next to him.

The woman sighed. "I'm afraid not," she said "I've been trying to do it for 15 years."

She wouldn't ride her horse down the Bridal Path because she thought it was only for newly married couples.

It used to be that when you owned a dog, you just owned a dog and that was all there was to it. Of course, you had to see that the animal was given food and water and received sufficient exercise. That was in the days when life was simple.

Nok, even as old and established a custom as owning a dog has become almost unbelievably complicated.

Of course, if you live in a city, you have to pay a dog tax—on the dog, of course. And before you can pay the tax, you have to have the dog inoculated against rabies. And the veterinarian suggests also that it would be a good idea to have the dog immunized against distemper.

All of these things cost money—not much separately but still they add up. Like they used to say about a Model T, "It's not the original cost but it's the up-keep; one of these cars will two-bit you to death."

Then there is the the problem of food for the dog. In the old days, you fed your dog scraps and of course some meat—but there is a meat shortage now, of which you've no doubt heart.

zSomeone suggested that we feed Bessie some prepared food. Upon opening the package, we found that the contents looked like pieces of brown cardboard. The directions said to soak in warm water, which was done with considerable misgivings, but to our amazement, Bessie ate this with much gusto and began to grow taller and heavier.

And as she grew, she became more playful and energetic. Fox terriers are generally conceded to be the liveliest of all dogs; Bessie is hereby placed in nomination as the liveliest of all fox terriers.

Of course, she had to have a place to romp and run—so that meant fencing in the back yard. Of course, we had been intending to build a fence for a long time (so we said). The fence has now been built at a cost of $77.50.

Say, those friends that gave us the dog, do you suppose they were friends?

Jennings Chosen PHSPA Treasurer

At the meeting of the Press Club last Tuesday morning, Alvin Jennings was elected treasurer of the Panhandle High School Press Association.

Since this organization has its headquarters at West Texas State College the two high schools in Canyon take turns electing the treasurer from their school. PHSPA usually holds its annual meeting here sometime in February, but due to wartime conditions the association could not meet in convention last year. The purpose of the PHSPA is to improve the journalistic standards of the high schools of the Panhandle and to promote friendship and cooperation among the newspaper and annual staffs. An active year for the Association is being planned.

Prof. Olin E. Hinkle is PHSPA sponsor.

What's Back of My Gas Burners?

A thousand years ago, the Chinese used natural gas fuel for evaporating salt brine. They transported the gas in bamboo tubes. Thus, in those days, the gas business was simple. Now, however, it has become complicated and technical, utilizing many scientific devices and processes.

Since natural gas service so vitally affects your daily life, we believe you would enjoy knowing more about it. Therefore, we plan to publish a series of four advertisements which will attempt to explain how natural gas is brought from its deep-underground reservoir to the burners of your gas appliances. Due to space limitation, the story must be brief and over-simplified. The drawing at the left will help you follow the gas on its travels.

Most of our gas comes from Hutchinson, Moore, Carson and Potter Counties in the Panhandle Gas Field, one of the largest in the world. We purchase some gas in Ector County for use in the southern portion of our system. In the Panhandle Field gas wells are generally drilled by the "rotary" method, so named because of the rotating motion of the drill bit. A modern rotary drilling outfit costs from $100,000 to $200,000.

The hard steel drill bit is the cutting tool which drills down through successive strata of shale and rock. Screwed to the top of the bit is a string of hollow, round drill pipe which in turn is screwed into the bottom of a hollow, square pipe known as a "Kelly." The Kelly works through a square hole in the rotary turntable. Thus, when the engines spin the turntable, the Kelly, the drill pipe and the bit also spin, and the bit cuts its way downward. Heavy pumps force drilling mud down through the hollow Kelly and drill pipe, through perforations in the bit, then outside the pipe and back to the surface, carrying with it the cuttings from the bit. As the bit moves downward, additional joints of drill pipe are added below the Kelly.

When the gas producing horizon is reached, a string of steel pipe, known as casing, is inserted in the hole from the surface of the ground to the top of the producing horizon. After running the casing, cement is run through the casing and forced out around the bottom in order to prevent the gas from escaping around the outside of the pipe. Then the well is drilled into the gas-producing horizon.

A steel derrick, capable of supporting weights of 200 tons or more, is used to support the drill pipe during drilling and the casing when casing is being installed. When the well is completed, the derrick is removed. In its place is installed a "Christmas Tree," an odd-looking assembly of valves and fittings necessary in producing, testing and maintaining the well.

EXPLANATION: 1—Drilling derrick. 2—Christmas tree. 3—Meter House. 4—Field gathering line. 5—Field compressor station. 6—Absorption tower at gasoline plant. 7—High-pressure main transmission line. 8—Town border station. 9—Intermediate pressure line. 10—District regulator station. 11—Low-pressure line. 12—Gas meter. 13—Your yard and house piping.

Jean Tarlton Weds James O. Harmon In Twilight Double-ring Ceremony

In a double-ring ceremony at the Presbyterian church Thursday at 5:30 p. m., Miss Jean Tarlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tarlton of Canyon, became the bride of Sgt. James O. Harmon, son of O. F. Harmon of Los Angeles.

To open the service, Ava Jo Moreman played softly on the organ while candles were being lighted. Mrs. J. D. Barker sang Grieg's "I Love Thee."

S-Sgt. Arthur Harmon of Roaring Springs, a cousin of the groom, served as best man. The only bridal attendant was Mrs. David T. Firman of Chelan, Wash., who wore a two-piece dress of light green with brown accessories.

Makes Pin-Ups for Her Soldier Hubby

With Aid of Photographer, She Turns Out Supply.

CLEVELAND. — The "little woman" saw to it in this case that her husband didn't spend his free moments in France gazing at the luscious curves of movie stars.

Cpl. Nick Schowinsky's 23-year-old wife is clever. She made sure that her husband had plenty of pin-ups —and good ones at that—but not of movie sirens.

The thought of Nick admiring the picture of some movie queen, of his posting it in his barracks or carrying it in his wallet, disturbed Irma Schowinsky. Then she got an idea. If her soldier boy wanted pretty figures and nice gams to look at he should have them.

Irma engaged a photographer to come out to her home and fix his camera lenses on her for a whole evening. With the accent on glamour, she posed in scanty, revealing costumes. Her legs, which incidentally, are of the Grable variety, played a prominent part in the photographs.

The self-acclaimed pin-up added a personal touch by inscribing a special greeting on each of the six pictures she sent France-ward. Such phrases as "To my cup cake," "Your loving wife," "Your strawberry jam" — Nick loves strawberry jam—and "Your brown-eyed Dickens" adorned the photos.

What did the soldier think of the idea? He summed it up in one word, "terrific!" He couldn't help but like the one in the slinky, low-cut evening gown and the one in the bathing suit. But, two to one, Nick especially went for the picture of Irma at her desk with her typewriter before her and a courageous "I'll be waiting" smile.

When asked about the other soldiers who might see and ask for one of her pictures, Irma replied, "You forget. My husband carries a gun."

Date for Atomic Bombing Set More Than Year Ago

GUAM. — Brig. Gen. Thomas F. Farrell, Albany, N. Y., disclosed recently that the August 5 (United States) date for dropping the first atomic bomb on the enemy was set "well over a year ago."

Farrell, aide to Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, Pasadena, Calif., veteran army construction engineer who was in charge of the bomb development program, said at a news conference the goal was set in order to lay out a schedule for completing the huge project.

For a while, he indicated, American and British scientists thought they were racing against time with the Germans who had been known to have started work on an atomic bomb of their own.

"One of our major worries over in Europe was that some secret weapon was being developed by the Germans comparable to this," said General Spaatz, commander of strategic air forces in the Pacific. "We were vitally concerned. All of the stories were that they were ahead of us."

Chemical Bomb Uses DDT In G.I.s Fight on Insects

CHICAGO.—A more potent chemical bomb to aid Pacific G.I.s in their battle against disease carrying insects has been developed and is being used in the area, Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, commanding general of the Chicago quartermaster depot announced.

The size of a pint soup can with rounded corners, the bomb has been improved by addition of DDT, a new army chemical, for the extermination of malaria mosquitoes and disease bearing flies, the general said.

The bomb dispenses the insecticide as a fine mist and can clear a pup tent of insect life in three seconds. One of the bombs can debug 150 army pup tents or 50 giant bombers within 10 minutes, Barzynski said.

Envisions Labor's Plans Outmoded by Atom Bomb

LONDON. — With the advent of the atomic bomb, the British Labor party's scheme for nationalizing industry is out of date, John Langdon Davies, science correspondent of the London Daily Mail, said recently.

"The Labor government need not waste time nationalizing the coal industry, nor the electric and gas industries," he asserted. "since these are from now on obsolete, or at least of such altered value that nobody can possibly assess their capital assets."

He added, however, that there will be a time lag before atomic energy can be harnessed in the thousand different ways necessary to meet the needs of industrial machinery.

FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN, GERMANY. — Approximately 4,166,000 displaced persons of 17 European nationalities have been cleared from the American-British - French occupation zones in western Europe and restored to their homelands.

That leaves 2,174,182 displaced persons yet to be moved.

Reid Becomes Football Queen

Her Majesty Reid Will Be Crowned at Game Friday Night

Members of the squad have elected Virginia Reid to reign as queen over the W. T. High Calves. The captain will officially crown Virginia at the Spearman game here Friday. Her attendants will be Miss Orzelia Henson and Miss Bette Brown, who will be escorted by members of the team selected by Coach Ford.

All students in W. T. High will want to be present on this festive occasion. Let's all back the team and be at the coronation ceremonies. Beat Spearman! Yea, Calves!

Guerillas Upset Calves 34-0

The W. T. High eleven encountered the heavy team of Pampa's Guerillas last Thursday in Pampa. The Pampa squad, which consisted of B squad and ineligible players for the regular squad, were held to a single touchdown for the first half.

Early in the second quarter, the Calves muffed a golden opportunity to score when Knighton blocked and recovered Pampa's fourth down kick on W. T.'s own 22. The ball was fumbled on the succeeding play on the 7 to be covered by the Guerillas.

Carter and Russell gained 65 yard of the total 74 gained the first half. Costly fumbles and bad passes by W. T. gave Pampa great advantage. The Calves' passing attack was halted by the onslaught of opposing linemen. Out of the nine attempted passes, six were incomplete and three were intercepted. Three W. T. fumbles resulted in later scores by Pampa.

The Calves' line fought the heavier Guerilla line to the last whistle. Outstanding on our defense were Captain Boling and Axe, who stopped Pampa's running plays repeatedly by their charging and tackling. The second attempt by Pampa to kick the extra point was blocked by McDonald. Every reserve on the W. T. Squad played in the game. W. T. High has won three, lost three, and tied one game. The next game will be on Buffalo Field, November 16, when the Calves meet the Spearman Lynx.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity of expressing our thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors who have been so kind and thoughtful to us during the illness and death of our husband and father. May God's richest blessings dwell with you. Mrs. Pearl Shuman, Ernest, Lawrence, Vincent Shuman, Mrs. W. C. Briggs, and Mrs. A. J. Newberry.

They are constructing apartment houses so fast now that you can watch one going up while on the way to work and see the landlord evicting tennants for non-payment of rent on the way home.

Our greatest ambition as a youngster was to wear long pants. Now, if there is anyone who wears them any longer we'd like to see him.

The maid swore she didn't tell the wife what time I came in last night. All she said was that she was too busy cooking breakfast to notice the time.

Every time we come home late at night the wife gets our pipe, slippers, and pajamas—and anything else that is handy—and let's us have it.

Sure he loved you more before you were married. That just goes to prove that he doesn't care for married women.

War Weapons Given Museum

W. F. Bradley Donates 23 Items Collected By Him in Germany

A collection of World War II materials, totaling 23 items, has been given to the Plains Museum here by W. F. Bradley of Amarillo, veteran of the war.

The gift was arranged by "Pinky" Pinkerton of Amarillo.

The collection includes nine helmets, two swords, and a number of bayonets. Although obtained by Mr. Bradley in Germany, the items include weapons and equipment from half a dozen countries.

The museum's collections of World War II materials are growing steadily. Assembling of this material will be expedited by the Veterans Association of West Texas State College, of which Robert Ziegler is president.

Some of the heavier automatic weapons of the recent war will be sought for the museum.

Buffalo Band Is Increased Since Glen Truax Came

From 16 members to 74 members is the jump that the Buffalo band has made since February of this year. The man who is largely responsible for this transformation is Glenn A. Truax.

Mr. Truax came to W. T. from Denton, Texas where he was supervisor of instrumental music in the public schools. Arriving here on February 4th of this year, he found that the band had a total of 16 members and members were wearing uniforms that were 16 years old. The first thing he did was enlarge the band. This was done by having students fill out musical questionaires at registration time this year.

Next, he made the prospect of joining the band more inviting by producing new band uniforms and promising more band activity. This term the band has marched in two parades, has played at four football games and has given one concert. The director believes the band will double in size next year.

Within the next five years, Mr. Truax expects to build the band department up into one of the best in the state. He hopes to have a band dormitory that will house 50 men, provide a place for a music library, have room for instrument and uniform storage, and a hall for practices.

With an increase in enrollment, he would have two bands. One bands of 90 pieces would play at games. A concert band of 60 pieces is planned.

Demons Stamp Eagles 32-12

Walters and Wright Score Touchdowns for Canyon

Taking the little end of a 32-12 score Friday night, November 9, at Buffalo Stadium, in a conference tilt with the Dumas Demons, the Eagles closed their high school football season.

Abbott, quarterback for Canyon, kicked off to Dumas with Carter receiving. In the first ten minutes of the game the Dumas squad slashed down the field for the first marker of the game. The try for extra point failed.

Later in the quarter Charles Wright, Eagle fullback stopped a Demon ball carrier who got loose on the Dumas 38-yard line and raced to the Eagles' two. Carter, 180-pound Demon fullback, plunged over center for another score, making the count 13-0 in favor of Dumas. Adding another touchdown in the second quarter, the Demons lead 19-0 at the half.

At the beginning of the third quarter the game was still in the Demon's bag when they added another marker running the score up to 26-0.

Staging a "come-back" in the fourth period, the Eagles squad rallied when Wright, on an end run, scored for the Eagles. Kick for the extra point was blocked.

Some minutes later Abbott passed to Walters behind the goal line for the second Eagle count bringing the marker up to 32-12. Kick for the extra point was low.

ARE YOU THANKFUL?

Yes, it is that time of year again and we have hundreds of things for which to be tahnkful especially at Thanksgiving.

This is the first peaceful Thanksgiving in several years, and many sons, husbands,, brothers, sweethearts, and fathers are returning home for a big dinner or supper with all the folks.

Our country hasn't been torn to pieces by bombs nor has the enemy invaded it. We have had great leaders during these years of distress and unhappiness.

Besides victory and all its glories, we should remember a few common but great things such as our homes, churches, teachers, buildings, scenery, roads, inventions, and all the other wonderful things of life.

Let's remember every little detail this Thanksgiving and give thanks to Him who has provided this world with so many great wonders.

—By Valeta Haines.

GIVE SOME MORE

Beginning this week in Canyon High is the annual Red Cross Drive, which is sponsored by the American Red Cross.

Everyone knows what a wonderful job they did during the war by feeding the hungry people in war torn countries of the world, and how they helped our soldiers on the battle fronts and at home by lending money and helping get messages through in times of need.

Even though the war may be over, the Red Cross will continue to do a great job in peace. Even now countries are suffering and will be suffering for a number of years to come. Here in our own United States, the Red Cross helps when there are disastrous floods, earthquakes, and fires. Their service to the world and humanity cannot be told in one short article.

So when you and you and you and you are asked to give to the Red Cross, give and give and give.

—By Guy Brant.

Eighteen high school basketball teams have been invited to the invitation basketball tournament to be held in Canyon High School, December 15 and 15. As yet, answers of acceptance have not been received from all.

Nicklaus Elected Football Queen

Avent and Standley Attend Her Hajesty in Ceremony

Nancy Ann Nicklaus, sophomore, who was voted football queen of 1945-46 by the twenty-two football boys of Canyon High School, was crowned at the football game between the Dumas Demons and Canyon Eagles Friday night, November 9 at Buffalo Stadium.

At exactly 7:31 the decorated car of Bill Davis, carried the queen, her attendants, and co-captain Malcolm Gunter, rolled slowly across the field and stopped in the center where the occupants stepped out.

The queen stood beside co-captain Charles Wright who escorted her to the edge of the field. Her attendants, Martha Jean Avent and Frances Standley, were escorted by Austell Burrus, center, and Malcolm Gunter, co-captain.

Her majesty was dressed in a two-piece tomato red dress, and wore a dahlia corsage. The two attendants had corsages of chrysanthemums. Frances wore a teal blue dress, while Martha Jean was attired in a black and white soft wool dress.

As the three couples reached the edge of the field Wayne Davis, right tackle, handed the crown, a white football helmet, to Charles Wright who placed the crown on the queen's head.

After the coronation, the three girls were escorted to a papered-off place in the stands, from which they watched the game that followed.

THANKS, MERCHANTS

Seniors of Canyon High School wish to take this opportunity to express their thanks to all the merchants of Canyon who donated articles to be used as prizes in the bingo booth at the Hallowe'en Carnival.

Students Sell Space Sealing Safe Sum

"Please take an eight dollar one! You just can't afford to turn down a great offer like this. Think of the advertisement, and besides, it'll be helping our high school annual to become bigger and better than last year. You'll take one? Oh, good! Here's your receipt, and thanks a million for your help."

This was the cry echoing through the streets of Canyon last Thursday as the students in the journalism class rolled up their sleeves and began tackling places of business for ads in our high school annual.

Different groups set out at 9:30 Thursday morning and sold ads until 3:00 Thursday evennig. The amount sold so far is $323.50. The money was turned in to Mr. Speer to be kept for the class.

This year the annual will be better, because the war is over and the labor situation will be improved. The company hopes to have a better grade of paper and clearer photographs and snapshots; however, the journalism class will appreciate all the students' suggestion for improvement.

Daisy Mae's Try Bachelor Chase

Presenting the first class assembly of the year, the seniors gave the traditional Sadie Hawkins program, in the high school auditorium, Monday, November 12, at 3:00.

Presiding over the assembly was Geraldine Small, vice-president of the Student Faculty Congress, in the absence of Malcolm Gunter, who was a member of the cast.

As the curtain opened, Pa Hawkins and his daughter, Sadie, were eating supper. Sadie declared she wanted a man and began to cry. Her pa assured her that he would arrange to get her a man 'come daylight.' The second scene found Pa Hawkins talking to Marrin' Sam, arranging for Sadie to catch a man. All Dogpatchers were called together to hear the rules and later attended a dance held at the Yokums to celebrate the coming event.

At sunrise all eligible males lined up and Marrin' Sam fired the gun. A short time later, the anxious gals lit out after the males. Only one gal was lucky enough to catch a man. Marrin' Sam performed the ceremony and Sunbeam McSwine and the oldest Scragg brother were married.

The characters are as follows: Lil' Abner Yokum, Malcolm Gunter; Daisy Mae, Johnnie Ford; Mammy Yokum, Jessie Pearl Harding; Pappy Yokum, Bobby Mickey; the McSwine sisters, Moonbeam, Sunbeam and Kissable, Louise Dickinson, Billie Jo Wallen and Cheri Kilchriste, respectively; the Scragg boys, Norma Zell Zachry, Jean Bourgeois and Anita Johnigan; Hairless Joe, George Schaeffer; Ole' Man Mose, Wilma Schuette; Wanda Meatball, Pauline Ruthart; Abijah Gooch, Shirley Harrison; Mitzi Mudlark, Charlene Simmons; Gat Garson and his gun moll, Blake Zachry and Billie Danner; Aunt Bessie, Alice Pierce; Available Jones, Ruth Prichard; Lonesome Polecat, Weldon Lindsey; Daisy Mae's Granma, Louise Tucek; Pa Hawkins, Ray McDonald; and Sadie Hawkins, Eloise Adams.

AHS Choir Sings Here on Friday

Scheduled to appear in the CHS auditorium Friday, November 16, at 11:00 is the A Cappella Choir from Amarillo High School, under the direction of Mrs. Julia Dean Evans.

In this group are 80 members, all of whom have been chosen to represent Texas schools at the Texas Music Educators Convention to be held in Denton this spring.

During the tour the A Cappella Choir will appear and sing religious, popular, classical, and patriotic songs at Vernon, Wichita Falls, Denton, and in four schools in Dallas.

Mrs. Julia Dean Evans received her M. A. degree from West Texas State College and is, for the seventh year, directing the choir at Amarillo.

"I think we are very fortunate in being able to secure the services of this talented group," states Principal Tommie J. Cole.

5J and 5W Give Indian Program

5J, Mrs. Mitchell Jones' room and 5W, Mrs. Andy Walsh's room presented "John Smith," a five scene play, November 8, at 2:30 in the Canyon Grade School study hall.

Students of each class made their costumes. Benny Mac Abbott, Elaine Cundiff, Carolyn Christian, and Doris Jennings were chosen to decorate the state. A ship, "Susan Constant," was built on the stage by the pupils.

Leading characters in the play were: John Miller as John Smith; Leroy Dickerson, Martin; David McDuff, William; Buddy Bennett, Henry; Tommy Myers, Thomas; Doris Keller, Pocahontas; and Kenneth Kasakey, Powatan. The Indian braves were W. M. Thompson, E. L. Ray, and L. A. Pyeatt. Indian squaws were Barbara Glanton and La Rue Davis.

"Indian Lullaby," "Happy Warrior," and other songs were sung between scenes. Five girls, Elaine Cundiff, Sara Colwell, Doris Jennings, Carolyn Christian, and Janie Jennings did an Indian dance.

Immediately after the play, tea, cookies, and nuts were served by Miss Elva Fronabarger in the grade school library. Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Jones were co-hostesses of the forty guests present. The room was decorated by Indian relics which the pupils have collected during their study on Indians. A sand table with mountains, evergreen trees, a lake with a canoe on it, and Indian homes were part of the decorations for the guests.

After the pledge of allegiance, the pep leaders, Louise Dickinson, senior; Martha Jean Avent, sophomore; Janie Forrester, freshman; Joanna Haines, eighth grade; and Merle Jean Bullard, seventh grade led several yells.

At the request of Malcolm, Betty Ann Miller conducted the singing of the school song. Classes passed out of the auditorium to attend sixth period classes.

Gunter Becomes SFC President

Geraldine Small Designated Congress Vice-President

Malcolm Gunter, senior nomineee, leading with 150 votes, became president of the Canyon High School Student Faculty Congress, in the secret ballot election on November 7, 1945. Other candidates were Ray McDonald, senior, and James Guthrie, junior.

Vice-president is Geraldine Small, junior, who led with 158 votes. Competing nominees were Bill Davis, junior, and Ruth Prichard, senior.

In his junior year, Malcolm Gunter was a representative to the Student Faculty Congress and secretary of the F. F. A. He was elected president of the senior class and co-captain of the football team in his senior year.

Geraldine Small was the vice-president in the ninth and tenth grades, representative for class in the S. F. C. while in the ninth, sophomore class favorite, and secretary of the junior class. She was treasurer of the Spanish Club, 1944-1945, and candidate for Hallowe'en Queen in 1945. This year she is the Area Recording secretary of the F. H. A.

Gafford Receives Watch as Award

Dorothy Gafford, who sold magazine subscriptions amounting to $137 during the recent drive by the junior class, will receive as first prize, a Bulova watch. Frances Gooch, the second highest salesman, sold $51 worth. It hasn't been decided, as yet, whether or not there will be second and third prizes.

Beginning on October 25th, the magazine sales campaign continued through November 7th, a period of ten school days. The class received 50% of the profit on the following magazines: Ladies Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post, Country Gentleman, and Jack and Jill. On all other sales, including some thirty magazines, the class received 30% of the profit. The money belonging to the class hasn't been taken out of the amount of $859. It will go into the junior treasurer to be used for various activities.

Members of the Red Team lost to the Blue Team, therefore the Reds gave the Blues a party, according to the agreement made by the teams before the sales started. It was held Wednesday night at the home of Jean Prater.

Commenting upon the sales, Miss Kathryn Davies, junior sponsor, says "This is the first enterprise of the class under my sponsorship, and I am greatly impressed with their class spirit."

Mrs. M. C. Corder accepted the position in Canyon High School faculty as commercial instructor. Mrs. Corder began her regular duties Friday, November 8.

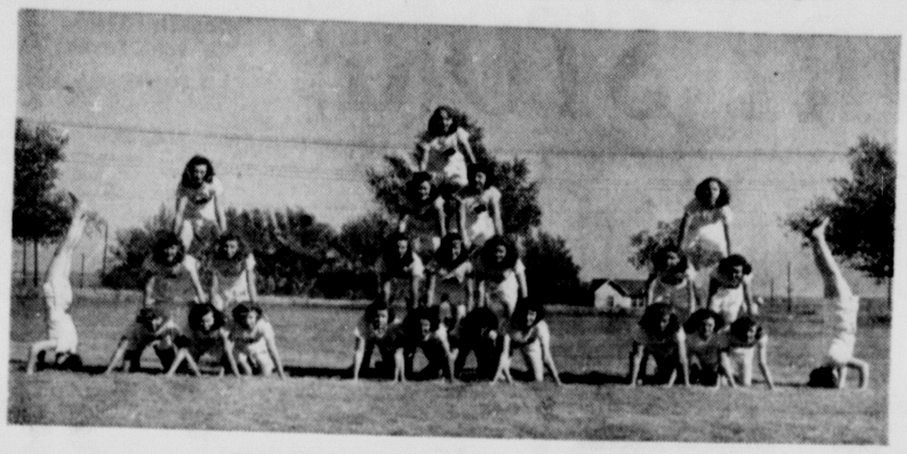
W. T. Tumblers Prepare Public Exhibition



PYRAMID BUILDING BY GIRLS OF W. T.

Twenty-six West Texas State students working under the direction of Mrs. Oma Ford have purchased the first tumbling uniforms bought here since 1931. The new suits consist of white shirts with the picture of a buffalo and "West Texas" written across the front, maroon peddle-pushers, and white tennis shoes.

The tumbling club, which includes not only the members of the tumbling class but also ex-tumblers, gave eight performances last year at basketball and football games, teas, dances, entertainments and other programs.

Tumbling has been included in the physical education program because it provides a wide range of movements useful in many life situations. It is a form of exercise which develops muscles, courage, body suppleness, sense of balance, and good body coordination.

Although diving and flips are usually considered the most daring stunts, the most spectacular phase of tumbling is pyramid building. Difficult balance stunts include the Stomach, Backward Angel, Chinese, Two-high, Mercury, and Shoulder Mounts—sitting and standing.

Because of its fun and values tumbling interest has greatly increased during the last two years.

Many Attend Baptist Session

Outstanding Speakers Are Heard at Texas A. & M. College

Twenty-two students represented West Texas State College at the annual Baptist Student Union convention at Texas A. & M. College November 2-4.

Students from almost every Texas college gathered to hear some of the Southwest's best speakers, students outstanding in music, and student leaders in religious centers on their campuses.

Keynote of the Texas convention, as well as sixteen other state conventions was "Christ My Imperative." Highlights of the convention were the welcome to Aggieland by President Gilchrist of Texas A. & M., a campfire service, morning watch, open forums, and a formal banquet prepared by students from the University of Houston.

W. T. Students on Program

Fellowship among the students of all Texas colleges perhaps meant most to the delegates. Cooperation was necessary for a successful convention and that was found in adequate supplies.

Students participating in the convention program from West Texas State were: Bob Kilgore, Beulah Hammond, Mary Lee Abbott, and Dale DeShazo. Beulah Hammond is retiring state publicity chairman.

W. T. students attending the annual convention were: Bob Kilgore, Kenneth Goodman, Naomi Adkinson, Aurene Jameson, Billie Ponder, Lila Mae Lill, Mary Lee Abbott, Betty Pugh, Bill Joe Peggram, Harold Prichard, June Wimberly, Carlyn Wimberly, Dale DeShazo, Guy Brant, J. C. Sanders, Alma Grace Schneider, Mrs. T. H. Knighton, Mrs. Goins, La Wanda Moore, Wallace Roberson, Beulah Hammond. Transportation for the group was by a chartered bus.

Frank Phillips Learns Of Better Sorghum

To learn the latest reports concerning the most approved varieties of grain sorghum, Prof. Frank R. Phillips, head of the agriculture department, traveled to Lubbock last Tuesday morning and interviewed Don Jones, director of the state-owned Lubbock Experiment Station.

According to the information he secured there, the combine variety "Plainsman" offers more possibilities than "Martin," the variety heretofore grown at T-Anchor Farm.

Besides possessing a higher vitamin A content, the Plainsman grain is fast being developed into a good yielder during drouth periods. Because it does not have the tannic acid found in the Martin variety, it is more palatable to livestock, particularly chickens.

Now... telephone factories are working for you.

More than 246,000 people in the Southwest have had to wait for telephone service for one reason:

Telephone factories were working for war.

Now those factories are turning from war to peace. All the facilities and know-how that did the war job are beginning to produce the mountains of telephone equipment—switchboards, dial apparatus, cable, wire, and instruments—needed here at home.

The task ahead is not easy. In the next 12 months we expect to be able to add one telephone for every 10 now in service. They will serve most of those who are waiting. For others, in localities where heavy construction and installation is necessary, it may take longer.

But we've made a start; we're on our way. Now all our efforts are aimed at making the wait just as short as possible—to provide telephone service to all who want it, when they want it.

Labor Disputes to Continue States Rotary Speaker

Herschel Coffee spoke Tuesday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club. He outlined labor and industrial relations of today. The labor-management situation is the most critical domestic question, and it is virtually impossible to get information that may lead to a solution.

There is no formula for a solution. Any question may be right for the moment. We shall have this problem as long as we have employees.

The speaker discussed the distribution of wealth, and the distribution of labor in the nation.

This is the day of big business, and opportunities for employment by young persons is limited to a very small number of forms. Practically all of the manufacturing of the nation is centered in the hands of a few firms. Therefore, there is little competition among these firms for labor. Production has increased at a much greater rate than have wages. As a result of our system, in 1936 50% of the families had an income above $1100 per year, and only 8% had an income above $2500. Taxes are the heaviest upon the small home owner.

Organized labor has grown in strength since World War I. Under our industrial system unions will grow. Today only about 25% of the wage earners are members of unions. The big problem of the nation is to work out an equitable system for settling disputes. There is no set formula that may be applied to all industries. Profits of the firm is of concern to the laborer, as these determine the share labor should have from its work.

Mr. Coffee does not believe that the present conference in Washington will reach an agreement. Management is represented solely by big business and labor is represented by the three big labor unions. The vast section of the nation, the consumers, is not represented. "I do not want the United States Chamber of Commerce, or the CIO to represent me in such a parley," stated the speaker. The only voice that the people have is through their government. Therefore the speaker reached the conclusion that no just settlement will be reached without the government stepping in and having a part in our industrial system.

Visitors present were: Warrant Officer Louis Upchurch of Arlington, Va., Harry Hunt of East St. Louis, Ill., James Cole of Canyon; J. B. Blount, H. T. Neely, Harvey Allen, Irving Tolzien, John E. Hill, Roy Boger, Emil F. Myers, W. W. Rusk, R. E. Wertz, Joe S. Morris, C. R. Janak, Forrest Barnes, all of Amarillo.
